

Lucy Cane

I am an experienced and dedicated educator and have taught in research universities, a liberal arts college, and a prison. I am also committed to advocating for social change, and have helped to build organizations focused on refugee resettlement, criminal justice reform, and labor rights.

lucy.vs.cane@gmail.com | www.linkedin.com/in/lucy-cane-phd-71595b20b

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Visiting Teaching Assistant Professor of Political Science, University of Denver, 2019–current

- Designed and taught courses in political theory, law and society, and constitutional law (in person and online.)
- Service in faculty governance: formulated policy priorities, managed working groups, administered surveys, coordinated social media, and won improvements in hiring practices.
- Reviewed articles submitted to academic journals.
- Published a book, academic articles, and journalism.

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, Beloit College, 2018–2019

- Designed and taught courses in political theory, US politics, and constitutional law.
- Reviewed articles submitted to academic journals.
- Won a book contract with Routledge.
- Published academic articles.

Instructor and Collective Member, Prison and Neighborhood Arts Project, 2014–2018

- Designed and taught courses in political theory in prison (some were co-taught.)
- Collaboratively organized exhibitions and roundtables.
- Coordinated social media, increasing our Facebook following tenfold.
- Edited a book of students' writing that was distributed inside and outside prison.

Graduate Researcher and Teaching Assistant, Northwestern University, 2010–2018

- Taught discussion sections in politics, classics, legal studies, Slavic studies, global health.
- Graduate student advocacy: managed databases, developed policy priorities, social media.
- Reviewed articles submitted to academic journals.
- Published academic articles.

Assistant Coordinator, Darfur Australia Network (Australia), 2009–2010

- Political lobbying: collaboratively wrote briefing papers and conducted in-person meetings.
- Connected refugees to resettlement services such as ESL, healthcare, and driving licensure.
- Organized public awareness-raising events, such as rallies, film-screenings, and roundtables.
- Wrote press releases and acted as a media spokesperson on radio, on television, and in print.

Research Assistant, Residex Pty. Ltd (Australia), 2009

- Research, writing, and editing for consumer reports on the residential property market.
- Gathering data from real estate agents.

Interviewer, Woolcott Research (Australia), 2007–8

- Conducted political opinion polls and market research for corporate clients.

Research Assistant, Rebecca Huntley, Independent Scholar (Australia), 2006–7

- Archival research for a historical novel, focused on mid-century newspapers and oral histories.

Interviewer, Newpoll Market Research (Australia), 2005-6

- Conducted political opinion polls and market research for corporate clients.

VOLUNTARY EXPERIENCE

Intern, Intersentia, academic publisher (UK), February–March 2021

- Edited texts in comparative intellectual property law, gained familiarity with ONIX.

Co-founder and Advocacy Officer, Darfur Australia Network (Australia), 2006-2009

- Advocacy, refugee resettlement, and awareness raising.

Tutor, Smith Family Home Tutor Scheme (Australia), 2006-2009

- Tutoring new migrants in ESL.

KEY SKILLS

- Program design
- Facilitating discussion and engagement
- Assessing learning outcomes
- Proficiency in online learning and meeting platforms
- Public speaking
- Research
- Evaluating multiple theories/ points of view
- Identifying and solving problems
- Policy development
- Writing
- Editing
- Project management
- Collaboration and stakeholder management
- Social media coordination
- Basic Spanish
- Driver's license

EDUCATION

PhD in Political Science, Northwestern University, 2018

MA in Political Science, Northwestern University, 2013

BA (First Class Honours) in Philosophy, University of Sydney (Australia), 2008